I am Rebecca Williams, a young adult from rural Southeastern Indiana. The medical field was a natural career choice for me as my mom has been a nurse for 35 years and my sister is a Medical Doctor practicing in Family Medicine. I have been a Registered Nurse for five years myself and am currently working on my Master's in the Science of Nursing, with a focus on Nursing Education.

I have always loved music and love to sing and play piano, bass guitar or flute. I also enjoy stock car racing, as my dad builds racecar engines at his self-started business Williams's Automotive. I and my sister grew up at the local dirt tracks watching him race his own stock car as well.

I have greatly enjoyed the opportunity to help the iCAN youth learn their own ways towards self-advocacy. My passion is for the education of others, as knowing the “why” of things seems to always help with the “how”. I hope to continue to have opportunities to help others and to continue to learn from others' influence as well. Thank you.
