Letter From iCAN President

Empowering Pediatric Patients Worldwide

iCAN, the INTERNATIONAL CHILDREN'S ADVISORY NETWORK, Inc., is the PREMIER GLOBAL PEDIATRIC PLATFORM to advocate for the patient voice in healthcare, driven by youth for youth. As a worldwide consortium of 38 children's advisory groups spanning four continents, including one virtual chapter, iCAN's dedicated youth member groups work in unison around the world to provide a voice for children and families in medicine, research, science, and innovation, with a goal of fostering greater global understanding about the importance of the pediatric patient and caregiver voice in healthcare, clinical trials, and research.

On average, our youth are ages 8-18 years old, most of whom are living with chronic, rare, and complicated diagnoses, though a few of our kids have no medical diagnoses or previous medical conditions (for example, siblings). iCAN values and understands that all patients, even the youngest, often have ideas that can help improve their healthcare experiences. To foster diversity, all children from anywhere may freely join iCAN. iCAN also supports young adults and the voice of parents, many of whom have young people who are unable to share their voices.

iCAN has recently incorporated with its independent 501(c)3 status. We continue to be a collaboration between the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) Section on Advances in Therapeutics and Technology (SOATT), Georgia Institute of Technology (Pediatrics@GT), local AAP Chapters, children's hospitals, local academia, and other non-profits.

Our goal is to get our kids where they need to be to have their voice heard. Our amazing youth make a difference in pediatric healthcare, through interactions with industry, by presenting original research at conferences, by innovating new solutions, by advocating for the pediatric patient voice in healthcare world-wide, and by telling their stories at conferences and to organizations like the FDA, iACT, NIH, NORD, CDC, and AAP.

With your donation, you make it possible for iCAN kids to travel where they need to be for presentations and conferences, including our Annual iCAN Summit where we bring our kids together with medical professionals, relevant industry and agencies, and each other. There are also sponsorship opportunities for specific Summit events and family travel to our Summit. New for 2023, you can Sponsor a Child! In return, depending on sponsorship level, iCAN offers your company advisory opportunities with our kids, social media acknowledgment, logo placement on our website and other materials, presentation and table options at our iCAN Summit, and more. Our kids are ready to share their expertise to help improve our pediatric community.

At iCAN, everything we do is for our kids.
We thank you for supporting children around the world through your tax-deductible donation.

Leanne West, iCAN President

We are Better in an iCAN Community

Current iCAN Community Partners

At the heart of every successful organization lies an amazing group of dedicated, caring, and valued volunteers. The strength of iCAN comes from the support and willingness to help our young people as they learn to share their voices and expertise locally, regionally,

We actively partner with a diverse group of community organizations to help share the voice of young people and to encourage better access to treatments, research, technology, science, and innovation.

iCAN supports pediatric hospital advisory groups and works with child life, doctors, researchers, medical students, and educational professionals to help identify projects that need community support and solutions.

Our Community Partners are those organizations that are also dedicated to the health and well-being of pediatric patients around the world. Collectively, our community partners are other non-profits that share our goals of amplifying our reach and helping us provide more opportunities for our kids to be heard.

As a community partner of iCAN Research, you will be connected throughout our global consortium of youth, families, caregivers, providers, hospitals, and pediatric support organizations. Our unique approach brings together stakeholders from around the world in an effort to provide a greater global reach for the pediatric patient voice.

Support for the Annual Summit

Bringing Youth Together From Around the World

Every summer, iCAN brings members, as well as siblings, young adults, and parents from all of our chapters together for the innovative and exciting iCAN Research & Advocacy Summit. iCAN aims to continue to expand the global network and opportunities for our youth members, as well as increase the success of the Summit each year.

This annual event provides our youth members with an invaluable opportunity to learn from one another and to network with leading professionals in healthcare from around the globe. In turn, the iCAN Summit offers the scientific community an opportunity to engage directly with children and parents so that they may learn about the value and the importance of the pediatric patient voice in research, medicine, and innovation.

Since 2014, iCAN has hosted the iCAN Summit, alternating between the US and EU*. Averaging around 200 attendees (up to 500 for 2023 with the partnership of iSPI), the Summit provides young people from around the world the unique and inspiring opportunity of working with industry and researchers in medicine, health, and technology to improve the health of children who are medically complex, have chronic medical conditions, and/or rare diseases.

The 2023 iCAN summit will be in Southern California on July 10-14!

iCAN and iSPI "Building the Future Together"

In partnership with our sister organization, the International Society for Pediatric Innovation (iSPI), the 2023 summit will be a joint effort between the two organizations. The vision for iSPI is to assemble all stakeholders passionate about innovation in pediatric healthcare - clinicians, administrators, parents, investors, service providers, philanthropists, and most importantly, patients - to function as one large united coalition of innovators and collaborate and to foster innovation around the world to help children.

A brand new opportunity for innovation in pediatric healthcare, overlap of the iCAN 2023 summit and PEDS2040 affords both sides of the pediatric healthcare realm (the doctors and the kids) a possibility to connect and share expertise. This is an incredible chance for learning and leaves much room for innovation. Doctors can hear first hand experience from the patients themselves, and those same patients can interact with experts in their fields outside of a hospital or waiting room.
